Cocoa Booster

One of the primary demand drivers for chocolate and other sweets is consumer taste, and consumers continue to love chocolate! Chocolate has long been a beloved treat in the western world, with a recent study showing that 91% of females and 87% of males consume chocolate products. But the taste for chocolate is now expanding into highly populated nations with a growing middle class, such as China and India. Consumers wildly enjoy chocolate for individual consumption, gift giving and cooking.

Trilogy Essential Ingredients introduces its new line of Cocoa and Chocolate Boosters suitable for a wide variety of product applications. In tests conducted with consumers, we have found that chocolate and cocoa products fortified with our Boosters give an overall preference in taste in baked good, dairy applications, milk shakes and drinks and powdered beverages, including instant cocoa drinks.

Utilizing our in-house propriety thermal processing technology, our products are selectively prepared to fit consumer needs and end-use applications. Our targeted development makes our products an easy choice when texture and mouthfeel enhancement is required, as is often the case when developing indulgent products for the marketplace. Trilogy Essential Ingredients' new cocoa booster will help leave your customers' taste buds craving more. Count on us to give your products a boost!
